> BARTENDERS HEARD REPORT Delegate Smith Told of International Convention in Boston.

At its regular meeting held on Mon-ay evening in the Foresters' hall At its regular meeting held on Monday evening in the Foresters' hall committee room, the Bartenders union, local No. 367, heard a report satisfactorily given by Samuel Smith of the recent international convention in Boston. President Michael Sheehan presided at the meeting of the local and the time was given over to hearing the report from Mr. Smith, who was their delegate to the convention.

Indicating the magnitude of the In-The Carpenters' union moved its furniture, practically all of it smoke and water marked, from the Lucas building to the third floor of the National Shoe and Clothing company building on Monday afternoon, and held its regular meeting in the new quarters Monday evening. Much of the business discussed was regarding the arrangements to be made in their new meeting place and the renovating of the furniture which came through the fire in the Lucas building. All the desks, tables and chairs will need refinishing. Much of their paraphernalia and records were kept in trunks which were soaked through, leaving the papers and books so wet that they will have to be allowed to dry out before they can be touched without danger of tearing them to pieces.

Indicating the magnitude of the International winch's work, Delegate Smith stated that for the last two years there had been paid on an average for death benefits the sum of $1,175,000 had passed through the national treasury, and that there was balance on hand of $38,700 reported. The death benefit paid is $100, of which one-half comes from the local and half from the international union's work. There were about twenty-five of the Academ, boys to sing, taking their station on the steps of the main building, with about $50, proceeds of sales after banking hours Saturday was secured. The police say there is absolutely no clue, but they believe a professional cracksman did the job.

Some Plan to Overceme Them.

Some weeks ago a petition signed by hearly three hundred of the ladies of Norwich was presented to the Norwich Board of Trade requesting that organization to take up the metter of the extreme height of the steps or running boards of the open trolley cars of the Connecticut company which are used on the street car lines of this company during the summer months. Henry W. Thobits, escretary of the Board of Trade took the matter up with the manager of the Connecticut company, and that official admitted the conditions complained of by the Norwich ladies and said the managers of the Connecticut company were giving the matter much thought and hoped to work out some plan which would bring relief to the patrons of their open trolley cars, but that no change could be brought about which would help the situation this summer. The petition as presented to the board is as follows:

The people of Norwich and vicinity wish to bring before you a just cause of the open trolley cars of the Connecticut company which are used on the street car lines of this community during the summer months many are forced to walk. All who ride are greatly inconvenienced, and the safety of all, particularly women, is endangered. Numerous cases have come to our personal attention of women who have been injured by the exertions necessitated in boarding or leaving a car.

STUBBORN ECZEMA ON HANDS

"Some nine years ago I noticed small pimples breaking out on the back of my hands. They became very irritating, and gradually became worse, so that I could not sleep at night. I consulted a physician who treated me a long time, but it got worse, and I could not put my hands in water. I was treated at the hospital, and it was just the same. I was told that it was a very bad case of ecrema. Well, I just kept on using everything that I could for nearly eight years until I was advised to try Cuticura Ointment. I did so, and I found after a few applications and by bandaging my hands well up that the burning sensations were disappearing, I could sleep well, and did not have any itching during the night. I began after a while to use Cuticura Soap for a wash for them, and I think by using the Soap and Ointment I was much benefited. I stuck to the Cuticura treatment, and thought if I could use other remedies for over seven years with no result, it deserved a fair trial with a severe and stubborn case. I used the Ointment and Soap for nearly six months, and I am glad to say that I have hands as clear as anyone. It is my wish that you publish this letter to all the world, and if anyone doubts it, I will give them the name of my physician, also the hospital I was treated at." (Signed) Miss Mary A. Benley, 93 University St., Montreal, Que., Sept. 14, 1910.
